27/28 June 2022
Munich, Germany

Welcome to the International Sustainable Economy Forum

The ISEF is an exceptional event and a new platform for bringing together all actors dedicated to the advancement of a sustainable economy. It offers a forum for pointing out current obstacles and challenges to the realization of a sustainable economy, including bioeconomy, which is as independent of fossil fuels as possible. At the same time, approaches and interesting solutions for the elimination of these hurdles are proposed. The ISEF strives to interweave the participants in order to launch productive collaborations during and after the conference. These collaborations may include R&D projects, but also associations of interest groups with the aim of promoting a sustainable economy with all effective, permissible means.

The ISEF is planned and arranged by the companies Industrielle Biotechnologie Bayern Netzwerk GmbH and Chemie-Cluster Bayern GmbH, who are most suitable for this task due to their knowledge of the matter, large networks as well as their long-standing experience in organizing events of such a scope.

Enjoy the evening reception, which concludes the first conference day. All partners and participants of the ISEF 2022 are cordially invited to this event.

We call on you to join this effort, shape the event and, with your contributions, back the achievement of ISEF's goals!
